BOARD OF DIRECTORS TO MEET

A meeting of the MAGG Board of Directors will be held immediately following the January meeting to discuss a few items. All board members should plan to attend.

Dear Friends.

I hope that everyone had a wonderful holiday season. All of the hustle and bustle of family coming and going, delicious food everywhere and fond memories emerging that we as historians cherish.

I am planning on going to the Newberry Library in Chicago in February any interested people should contact me. This will be an overnight trip.

I would like to thank Lou Hacker for starting our new computer interest group. This should be very interesting for those of us that have computers and also for those wishing to buy and use a computer for their geneology. Anyone is welcome to come to the meetings.

Another thank you needs to go out to Schnitz and Vickie for the work on the library and compiling the listing of the Library's holdings.

I have been in contact with the McMillian Memorial Library in Wisconsin Rapids and our Marshfield Public Library and we are working out some details about how to put our necrology index on computer disks. I will then be asking for people to volunteer to enter the information into the computer.

As always,

THE WAY WE WERE

The following might be used to get a discussion going with an older relative, especially for audio taping or video taping. From: WISCONSIN NOTES, Milwaukee Journal, January 31, 1988. Here's an amusing article which makes an interesting comparison.

1889: Fifty years ago women wore hoop skirts, bustles, petticoats, corsets, cotton stockings, high buttoned shoes, frilled cotton drawers; they did the cleaning, washing, ironing, raised big families, went to church on Sunday and were too busy to be sick.

Men wore wiskers, square hats, Ascot ties, red flannel underwear, big watches and chains; they chopped wood for the stove, bathed once a week, drank 10-cent wiskey and 5-cent beer, rode bicycles, buggies and sleighs, went in for politics, worked 12 hours a day and lived to a ripe old age.

Stores burned coal oil lamps, carried everything from a needle to a plow, trusted in everybody, never took an inventory, placed orders for goods a year in advance, and always made money.

1939: Women wear silk or no stockings, short skirts, no corsets, an ounce of underwear, have bobed hair, smoke paint and powder their faces, drink cocktails, play bridge, drive cars, have pet dogs and go in for politics.

Men have high blood pressure, wear no hats, little hair, shave their whiskers, play golf, bathe twice daily, drink poison, play the stock market, ride in airplanes, never go to bed the same day that they get up, are misunderstood at home, work five hours a day, play ten hours and die young.

Stores have electric lights, cash registers, and elevators, but never what the customer wants, trust nobody, take inventory daily, never buy in advance, have overhead, mark-up, mark-down, quota, budget, advertizing, stock control, annual, semi-annual, and end of the month sales and never make money.

Can you imagine how the author of this piece would describe us now after tha next 49 years or almost 50 years? You can hardly believe it yourself.—The Richland Observer via Out on a Limb, Matertown Genealogical Society, Natertown, Nisconsin, Vol. 4, Issue 4, Nov./Dec. 1989, p. 10.

QUAKER DATES

Whenever you find a gravestone which reads: 12th Day of the First Month. This is Society of Friends "Quaker" terminology.

The Quaker religion does not allow them to worship or speak of any pagen gods - 10 months of the calendar are named for pagen gods. As they cannot use the actual month's name, they refer to the month's name as a number. Do not change this number in your files or you will lose this Quaker distinction. [Also you will need to figure out whether January or March is being refered to as the "First Month."] ----from Gens Genealogy, Bay Area Genealogical Society, Inc., Green Bay, XV. No. 5. Nisconsin, Vol. November December 1989, p. 2.

HISTORIC HOUSES

Did you ever wonder what great- grandpa's house was like? There are several ways to find information depending on where they lived. Deeds to property may mention buildings but they seldom specific. Tax assessment rolls, however, do describe the buildings on each parcel of land. Assessments were updated, then as now, every Although some old few years. assessment rolls may have been lost or disgarded, many can be found in Area Research Centers If your or in town halls. ancestors lived in a city, use city directories to determine where the house was--many 100 houses are still old standing in Wisconsin. You will need to compare directories carefully because street numbering was an inexact science until after 1900.

Sanborn Fire Insurance Maps were drawn to illustrate the risk of fire to any particular building. These maps were drawn every few years and indicate the number of stories, whethe wood, brick or stone, etc. These were done nation wide, not just in Wisconsin. Wisconsin maps cover 325 communities, from as early as 1883. Area Research Centers may have copies of the maps for their areas. The State Historical Society has a full set for Wisconsin.

If your family Was prominent businessman or farmer, you may find a photo or drawing of the house in a county history or similar book. Even likely is a picture of the Of business. course, family members may have photos saved-be sure to ask. Since flash was tricky in the early days of photography, a pose in front of house is common. -- from Minnebagoland Roots, Hinnebagoland Genealogical Society, Oshkosh, Misconsin, Vol. 4, No. 1, Dec. 1989, p. 7.

Genealogical Research—From the Library to the Cemetery

Join us to learn about your family's roots in an introductory or an advanced class on genealogical research. The classes will be offered by UW-Madison's Liberal Studies Department at Old Radio Hall on the Madison campus and at over 100 Educational Teleconference Network sites throughout the state during January and February.

This house was built by a newly arrived immigrant from Pomerania, Charles Schulz, in 1856 in Dodge County. He built it like those found in the old country and lived there with his wife and seven children. The Schulz House is now part of the German area of Old World Wisconsin. If you want to search for your family roots, you will find one of these UW-Madison genealogy classes helpful.

Introduction to Genealogical Research

This class is designed for people interested in learning how to begin genealogical research. It will focus on American research with emphasis on the records of Wisconsin and the eastern states. It will also include the basics for making the jump to European sources. The class covers the basic procedures used in starting research, the proper use of correspondence and some of the resources that are available, such as courthouse and library materials, census records and cemetery information. Participants will meet from 5:30 to 6:50 p.m. for five Wednesdays, January 24 to February 21.

Genealogy-Advanced

This class is designed to assist the researcher who has progressed beyond the elementary levels of genealogical research. It will concentrate on research techniques, record sources and advanced research problem solving. Althoug there are some lectures, there will also be ample opportunity for questions and discussion.

Participants will meet from 5:30 to 6:50 p.m. on five Wednesdays, February 28 to March 28.

The instructor for both classes will be James Hansen a reference librarian at the State Historical Society of Wisconsin.

The registration fee is $23 for each class.

For more information, call the County Extension office or (608) 262-3731.
