JANUARY AND FEBRUARY MEETINGS

Our January Meeting will be held at the Marshfield Clinic in Room #'s G627, G628 and G629. These are the mini conference rooms behind the Cafeteria on the Ground Floor. John Berg will be presenting an informational slide show on "Marshfield Blacksmiths". John currently lives and teaches History in Wisconsin Rapids, but his Great-Grandfather, Michael Berg, was one of Marshfield's first blacksmiths. The meeting begins at 7:00 p.m. with a short business meeting to follow. Invite your friends and neighbors for his unique presentation on Marshfield history and the genealogy of the Berg family.

For anyone wishing to use the library, call Vickie at 387-4044, with specific titles and call numbers that you wish to check out. She will bring ordered items only to the meeting. The entire library will not be brought to this meeting because of the set-up of the room. If you have materials to return, bring them along to the meeting or drop them off at the house.

Our February Meeting is still not set at this time. We have three possibilities: a meeting at the U.W. Marshfield Center Library to find out what sources they may have to help genealogists, a meeting at the Upham Mansion with a tour and presentation of genealogical sources available, or guest speaker Kevin Shibilski, Wisconsin Senator representing the 24th District. Kevin is not only a politician but a genealogist in the Stevens Point and Portage County areas. Come to the January Meeting to see what we have planned for you for February. If you are unable to attend the January Meeting and wish to join us in February, call Bill Holmquist, our program chairman at 387-0523 for more details.

PBS "ANCESTORS"

The Public Broadcasting System is preparing a genealogical series called Ancestors. Ten episodes are planned in what will be the first television series to provide basic information for beginning genealogists and family historians. Contact your local PBS station for more details. The FGS Forum, Vol. 7, No. 3 featured a lengthy article by Mr. Sterling Van Wagenen.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Members:

It looks like a busy spring and summer by the looks of the Upcoming Events column. With so many opportunities to learn more about genealogy, please try to take in at least one of the activities mentioned. If you're planning a vacation this summer, you might want to work it around one of the many out of state meetings or workshops. Remember, we are never too old to learn and who knows, you might just find a new relative at one of the meetings.

Special thanks to Bill Holmquist for "volunteering" to fill the vacancy of Program Chairman. Please give Bill all of your ideas for upcoming programs and workshops. He is eager to make it a good year.

Special thanks also goes out to the entire crew working on the Necrology Index at the Library. It won't be long before it's done. However, if you have some time available, contact Lorraine Markee to see where you can help.

Happy Hunting,

Vickie Schnitzler
MAGG President

COPYRIGHT INFORMATION

Writing your family history? Do you want to protect it by copyrighting it? Here are some helpful suggestions:

While you are writing your history, you can protect it by writing "Copyright" followed by the year in which you began writing and your name. This is called "Common-law Copyright" and will protect your work until it is printed. When it is printed, the copyright notation needs to appear on the title page only.

After you have finished writing your book and want to print it and distribute to family and friends, you should protect it further by filing official copyright papers with: Copyright Office, Library of Congress, Washington, D.C. 20559. The phone number to call is 1 (101) 479-8700.

POSTAL GUIDELINES

The high-speed equipment of the Postal Service works best only when the postal patrons make their postings compatible with the machines. In order to do this there are ways of addressing your mail that will facilitate the processing.

1. Type or print address in all CAPS.
2. Align the address on the left margin.
3. Do not use punctuation marks, use a space.
4. Use black ink. Print clear and sharp.
5. Keep address from slanting.
6. Attention line should be above address.
7. Use Apt., Bldg., etc. instead of # sign.
8. Zip code is the last line on envelope.

PERSI

This acronym is the abbreviation for the PERIODICAL SOURCE INDEX, which is produced by the joint efforts of the Genealogical department of the Allen County Public Library Foundation, and the Family History Library in Salt Lake City, UT, has now brought out a microfiche edition of PERSI. Of special interest to us is that Family History Centers have received permission to purchase copies of the fiche. This can save countless hours of searching. PERSI provides:

- *Index to 1700 English and French language genealogical periodicals.
- *Subject access to nearly 500,000 articles.
- *Entry for you through separate indexes to articles on localities, families, and research methods.

It does not however:

- *Index every name in the article.
- *Index or include book reviews, queries, ancestor or family charts.
- *Include newsletter or family surname magazines.
- *Provide access to the actual article.
- *Provide page numbers for the article it indexes.

The retrospective index covering articles in journals dated from 1847 through 1985 has not yet been completed. About 200 of the most popular genealogical periodicals dated 1986 or later, however, have been indexed on an annual basis. If you wish to obtain copies of articles that are listed in PERSI you should contact the Allen Co. Library with the full entry from the PERSI fiche. You may make as many as 5 to 8 requests in each letter. You will be billed a flat fee for each letter plus 20 cents for each page copied. Contact the library at P.O. Box 2270, Ft. Wayne, IN 46801.

THE STATE OF FRANKLIN

Between 1784 and 1788, some records show citizens from the State of Franklin, NOT Tennessee. Known today as the "lost state", it was about to become our 14th state and a fact in the history of the United States. Davy Crockett was a Franklinite, born in 1786, and is one of the most notable individuals to claim this fact. The state was named for Benjamin Franklin, mostly to solicit his support. It had first been named Frankland. It did exist from 1784 to 1788 and had a governor, legislature and a court system. The State of Franklin broke away from North Carolina and thus lacked their support for statehood. Approval by the U.S. Congress was denied by one vote. In 1789, North Carolina finally ceded its western lands to the United States. In 1796, Tennessee became the 16th state and included the Franklin Territory that is now 14 counties in northeast Tennessee.

INDIANS AND THE U.S. CENSUS

White people who married Indians were not listed on the U.S. Census if the marriage took place in OK, AR, or MO before 1889. They were considered part of the Indian Nation into which they were married. In 1905, all Indians had to fill out a claim including children, grandparents, birth, death, etc. The National Archives has these applications to the Court of Claims.

BABIES IN THE U.S. CENSUS

Census enumerators were instructed to take the census AS OF the census date, regardless of the visit date. Babies born after the "date" were not to be included, but deaths were! Although all enumerators did not apply this rule, genealogists should be aware of which dates should have shown. The census day for 1790, 1800, 1810, & 1820 was for the first Monday in August of each year; for 1830 through 1900, June 1; for 1910, April 15; for 1920(Ed: did not give date for 1920); and for 1930 through 1980, April 1.

10 COMMANDMENTS FOR THE TRAVELER

On the Butterfield Stage Route in Kansas, the coach was drawn by four or six horses, with a day's run about 20 miles. Relay stations were 8 miles apart and the speed was 5 miles per hour. And these were the rules:

1. The best seat is the forward one, next to the driver. If you have tendencies toward stage sickness when riding backwards, you'll get over it quicker in this seat and receive less jolts and jostling.
2. If the stage teams run away or are pursued by Indians, stay in the coach and take your chances. Don't jump out for you will be either injured or scalped.
3. In cold weather abstain from liquor for you are subject to freezing quicker if under its influence than as though you were cold sober.
4. But if you are drinking from a bottle, pass it around. It is the only polite thing to do. Be sure to procure all stimulants before leaving Dodge City or Fort Elliot or stage station, for ranch whiskey isn't nectar.
5. Don't smoke a strong cigar or pipe on the stage, especially when women or children are present. If chewing tobacco, spit to the leeward side.
6. Don't swear or smoke or lop over on neighbors when sleeping. Let others share the buffalo robes provided in cold weather.
7. Don't shoot firearms for pleasure while en route as it scares the horses.
8. Don't discuss politics or religion. Do not point out sites where robberies or Indian attacks took place.
9. While at stations, don't lag at wash basins or privies. Don't grease hair with bear grease or buffalo tallow as travel is very dusty.

10. Don't imagine you are going on a picnic, for safe travel is inconvenient. Expect annoyances, discomfort, hardships. Bear them with fortitude. Be friendly and helpful to other passengers and you will be a more pleasant one.

PENSION FILES FOUND

Have you searched for your ancestor's pension file and had no success? It just might be among the 105 boxes of pension records recently found at the National Archives. Apparently these records, which date back to the Revolutionary War, The War of 1812, and Seminole War were not indexed and microfilmed. The files are arranged by account number and are being published in the American Genealogy Magazine by Datatrace System, P.O. Box 1587, Stephenville, TX 76401. (from CGSA Newsletter, via Waukesha County Gen. Soc. Newsletter, Vol. 6, No. 1, August 1995)

NATIONAL ARCHIVES GOPHER

The National Archives has made available an Internet Gopher server that provides key information relating to the National Archives - descriptions of facilities nationwide; information of agency holdings; publications and general information leaflets; and some Federal regulations. The Gopher is part of a pilot project to make information about the agency and its holdings available electronically.

The goal of the pilot project is to provide a unified presentation and method of access to National Archives information for Internet users. The Gopher menu structure, which will be expanded as new items become available, is designed to reflect the breadth of the National Archives organization. The Gopher is to serve government agency personnel, educators, librarians, historians, genealogists, researchers, job-seekers, and members of the public. Future plans call for a bulletin board presentation for dial in access to the Gopher menu.

The Gopher is an excellent introduction to the holdings of the National Archives for first time users. Researchers can access information on some of the most widely used collections, including the Nixon Presidential Materials, Ansel Adams photographs from the Still Pictures Branch, captured German sound recordings, electronic records, and an index of selected census records. Research questions can be directed by e-mail to inquire @nar.gov.

Text-base information can be accessed with a Gopher client by connecting to the address gopher.nar.gov. This information, together with future additions of hypertext and multimedia document, can also be found on the WorldWideWeb (WWW), using a client such as Mosaic, at <http://www.nara.gov>.

The National Archives is using the GN server for the Gopher and HTTP protocols, running on an 1486 microcomputer. The freeware for the UNIX operating system is by John Franks at Northwestern University. The system administrator is Jon Radel of Synetics, Inc.

HAMBURG RECORDS

If your ancestor emigrated through the port of Hamburg, he may have lived and worked in Hamburg for up to six months while awaiting passage. The Hamburg Police Reports would record when he registered with the police on arrival. These reports have been microfilmed and indexed by the Family History Library.

DOES YOUR OUTHOUSE HAVE A MOON?

Ever wonder why a CRESCENT MOON is carved into so many of the outhouses you see in pictures?

When outhouses were in wide use, many people were unable to read, so men's and women's outhouses had to be identified with symbols. The crescent moon, symbolizing Luna, the moon goddess of Roman mythology, had become a universal symbol of womankind, so it was used to identify the ladies' outhouse.

The sunburst, symbol of Sol, the sun god, was used on the mens' outhouses. With time, the mens' outhouses fell into disuse and were soon abandoned. Apparently, men found ways to get along without enclosed facilities. The ladies' outhouses, however, were better maintained and lasted longer. That is why you see the crescent moon on so many outhouses shown in pictures today.

IMMIGRANT AND PASSENGER LISTS

The National Archives has published a second edition of Immigrants and Passenger Arrivals: A Select Catalog of National Archives Microfilm Publications. This newly revised catalog contains detailed descriptions of records relating to arrival of passengers, crew members and vessels in U.S. Ports. 13,000 new roll listings have been added, including new ports of entry (Detroit, Galveston, The St. Albans, Vermont district, San Francisco and Seattle.)

The catalog is available at the National Archives for $2.00 or it can be ordered from the National Archives Trust Fund, P.O. Box 100793, Atlanta, GA 30384. Include $3 for shipping and handling.
